

FRENCH IRISH KINO

Call for candidates

FESTIVAL RESISTANCES
JULY 3 TO 11 2020
FOIX - SOUTH OF FRANCE

THE KINO

From July 3 to 11, the 24th edition of the Resistances festival will take place at Foix, in the south of France. Each year, more than a hundred movies are screened. The axes of the program are always about social, economical and political themes. Every year there is also a geographic zoom : on 2020, it will be Ireland.

Simultaneously, the association Caméra au Poing will gather ten young Irish and ten young French during the whole festival around a documentary Kino. A Kino is a cinematographic workshop where the participants get the challenge of making short film from A to Z on a very short time.

The goal of the Kino is to offer an incultural exchange within an artistic and democratic framework. Indeed, the participants will work on team, on subject determined together.

This Kino is opened to deaf and hard hearing person, so three langages will intertwine : English, French and LSF. Irish deaf are of course welcomed but keep in mind that no BSL translator will be present, only LSF ones to follow our deaf participants.

At the end of the Kino, the movies made will be screened during the off of the festival.

CANDIDACY CRITERIA

- live in Ireland or in France
- to be between 18 and 30
- to be available between the 2nd and 13th of July

The Kino doesn't necessitate any particular audiovisual skills, just a curiosity about the making of a movie. However, you must enjoy multicultural environment and remember it will be quite intense !

Also, keep in mind that this is a documentary kino, not a fiction one.
